

Pro Se Filing

SKIP A TRIP TO THE COURTHOUSE – FILE ONLINE!!

The Denton County District Clerk's Office has been a proud supporter of electronic filing since 2012. E-filing is a fast, efficient and convenient way to file any lawsuit or any document.

E-filing is available to all self-represented parties (commonly known as pro se), attorneys, mediators, court liaisons and more.

Please go to the below website to sign-up for your free E-filing account:

<http://www.efiletexas.gov/> or <https://efile.txcourts.gov/ofsw eb>

For additional information on how to E-file or for frequently asked questions, please go to the Denton County District Clerk's website located at <https://dentoncounty.gov/Departments/District-Clerk> .

Obtaining Forms and Instructions

The Denton County District Clerk's Office does not provide any paperwork for filing a case. If you are representing yourself, as your own attorney, you are required to know the rules of the court.

Below are some options for Pro Se filers to obtain documents and information.

<https://texaslawhelp.org>

This website will provide step by step instructions as well as forms for cases to be filed in Denton County

The Denton County Law Library

121 N Woodrow Lane

Suite 160

Denton, TX 76209

Phone

940-349-2130 and 972-434-8821

HOURS

Monday through Friday

8 am to 5 pm